Abstract: We use a corpus of about 100,000 happy moments written by people of different genders, marital statuses, parenthood statuses, and ages to explore the following questions: (i) Can gender, marital status, age be predicted from textual data expressing happiness? (ii) Are there differences between men and women, married and unmarried individuals, and people of different age groups in terms of their causes of happiness and how they express happiness?